"For what is a woman but a foe to friendship,
an inescapable punishment,
a necessary evil,
a natural temptation,
a desirable misfortune,
a domestic danger,
a delectable mischief,
a fault in nature,
painted with beautiful colors?"

Saint John Chrysostom on Matthew 19.

Swearing and Perjury.

Almighty God, to the intent his most holy Name should be had in honour, and re-vermore be magnified of the People, commandeth that no man should take his Name vainly in his Mouth, threatning punishment unto him that unreverently abuseth it by Swearing, Forswear-ing, and Blasphemy. To the intent therefore that this Commandment may be the better known and kept, it shall be declared unto you, both how it is lawful for Christian People to Swear, and also at peril and danger it is vainly to Swear, or to be Forsworn. First, den Judges require Oaths of the people for declaration or opening e truth, or for execution of Justice, this manner of swearing is law-so when men make faithful promises, with calling to witness ame of God, to keep covenants, honest promises, od customs, as Christian Princes

Women were regarded by ideologists of the church as more lustful, more inclined to depravity than men. It was believed that there were more female witches than male witches.

Women accused of sodomy, witchcraft, incest, adultery even abortion; were persecuted, tortured and killed.

The first witch to be executed for copulating with a demon was put to death in 1275, one year after the death of Saint Thomas Aquinas.

According to Burchard of Worms (d.1025)
The confessor should question the penitent as follows:

"Have you done what amorous women are accustomed to do? When they kill his desire through magical arts so that he cannot have relations with his wife.
If you have done this, you must do penance for forty days on bread and water."

In the Middle Ages experts were familiar with some fifty or sixty methods used by the demons to prevent the marital act from taking place.

Nouer l' aiguillette:
This consisted in the witch tying a knot or snapping a lock shut during the marriage ceremony.

Peronette de Ochiis, executed in 1462.

But it was not just woman's voice, but her hair as well, that predestined her to intercourse with the devil.

"When a woman cries, she is surely thinking of spiteful deception.
When a woman cries, she means to deceive man."

The Hammer of Witches, 1487.

"One and the same devil can produce semen
by taking the form of a woman (succubus) and having intercourse with a man.
And then taking the form of a man (incubus) and having intercourse with a woman."

Thomas Aquinas, Fifteenth century.

Witches were blamed
for the death of newborns, for passing on information about contraception.

One out of every three women executed was a midwife.

"Repentant witches have often confessed to us and others, saying that no one harms the Catholic faith more than the midwives."

"For the word femina comes from fe and minus. Fe = fides, faith Minus = less; femina, therefore, means she who has less faith; because she always has and maintains less faith, and that from her natural inclination to gullibility, although thanks to both grace and nature the faith of the most blessed Virgin never wavered, while that of all the men at the time of Christ did."
